Student's Name: ALQISTHY

COACH OBSERVATION

While working in his group, Alqisthy prefers to work as the Project Programmer. He is quite exceptional in his programming logic. With minimal assistance, he is able to solve programming problems he faces, and he shows great creativity in developing methods for solving programming problems.

His improvement in social skills shows when he is not working as a programmer where he is able to guide his friend using good communication skills. In the beginning of the program, Alqisthy at times engaged in heated arguments with his teammates as he tried to make his friends accept his ideas. Now he is much better at compromising. Moreover, when he is holding the Project Manager role, Alqisthy shows his leadership skills by leading discussions and ensuring the project is done on time.
